A photograph showing a close-up of a metal chair leg, likely made of chrome-plated steel, extending diagonally across a light-colored wooden floor. The leg is part of a chair with a wooden seat and backrest, visible in the upper right corner. A white electrical cord is plugged into a power outlet on the floor near the chair's base. In the bottom right corner, a portion of a metal wire basket is visible. The lighting is somewhat dim, and the floor shows some minor wear and a small red mark.
